

7 tips hassle free on moving house

1. Check well the removals company you are planning to book the removal with. It is not advisable to go for the cheapest man and van service you find. It happens quite often that the van never appears or has about 4 hours delay. Once you find the service you are interested in, check if this company has website and you can read about service and provide a landline number with good customer service. Ask the removal company to send you a written confirmation of the service, with the company details, stating what and when is the booking for. http://www.removalscompanyinlondon.com/uk-movers_london.html

2. Make sure you understand the moving house costs.

Check if there are any hidden costs, if the price covers everything you need and if you are happy with the price increments. http://www.removalscompanyinlondon.com/uk-homeremoval_houseremoval.html

3. Ask what exactly the van equipment is.

Removal companies have different strategies and different equipment in their vehicles. It may occur that you need a special rope to lift your sofa or many little items you need to transport in special trolley. Ask the removal company in advance if they carry in the removal vehicles what you need. Sometimes you need to order some equipment in advance, even if you thought it was obvious the vehicles should have it permanently. http://www.removalscompanyinlondon.com/moving_house_london.html

4. Book your removal company at least 3 weeks prior to moving day.

Moving companies are usually fully booked at least 2 weeks in advance. Additionally, this way you will give them time to organize everything for you. http://www.removalscompanyinlondon.com/uk-domestic_Removal.html

5. Sort out the requirements of your real estate.

You cannot leave it for the last minute. If something happens and you cannot move in on the planned day, you would have to pay the minimum charge for the removal booking. <http://www.removalscompanyinlondon.com/uk-movehouse-movehome.html>

6. Check if the big items are possible to be taken through the corridor.

You might have schedule an important meeting straight after the house removal London. Dismantling sometimes takes long time and if you don't predict this, you might have to leave some furniture behind or lose an important client. <http://www.removalscompanyinlondon.com/movingcompanieslondon.html>

7. Check if all the items will fit inside the moving van.

Call the removal company you want to book the service with, ask for dimensions and check if the biggest items actually fit inside. If not ask for a bigger vehicle, so that you will not have to pay for another removal services. <http://www.removalscompanyinlondon.com/services.html>
